Me Voilà! series

01.
Virginie Bouette
Duration: 10 Minutes

In six ten-minute programs Me Voilà takes you on a tour through France, from Le Havre in the west to Strasbourg in the east, from Paris in the north to Toulouse in the south.

Me Voilà is a documentary. The young protagonists themselves suggested what to focus on and they appear in real, everyday situations. They invite us into their homes to meet their families, they introduce us to their friends and they show us where they live. We accompany them in their schools and workplaces, when they are practising their hobbies and spare time activities.

In this episode we meet Virginie. Virginie and her sister Cathy live in Le Havre on the west coast in picturesque Normandy. We first meet the two sisters as they land after a parachute jump. Parachuting is the main interest of these two charming young sisters. We also see them preparing a “chute libre” and explaining the gear and how to use it. We meet them at their home with their parents, friends, and pets, and they introduce us to their city and its beautiful surroundings.

We also meet Vincent, the president of Le Havre’s parachute club who talk about the club and Virginie.

The program ends with Virginie and Cathy and a group of parachutists performing a spectacular free fall.

02.
Renaud Cestre
Duration: 10 Minutes

In this episode we meet Renaud. Renaud is a charming young man who is in his first year at a Parisian theatre school and nourishes dreams of becoming an actor.

The program opens with a scene that he and a young female student, Clémence, are rehearsing. We meet his drama teacher who talks about the school, about acting in general and Renaud in particular.

Renaud introduces us to his part of Paris, the suburb Montreuil, and we accompany him to the local flea-market where he and Clémence look at clothes.

He goes on to talk about his native part of France, Burgundy, and we see some stills from there.

Finally, we meet him and another girlfriend, Marion, as they walk through some streets of the 9th arrondissement ending up with two friends at a typical French café.

03. Laura Weissbecker Duration: 10 Minutes	In this episode we meet Laura. Laura is a young fashion model who has been working in Paris for two and a half years. When we first meet her, she is sitting at a café on the famous Champs-Élysées. She talks about the good and bad sides of modelling. We follow her to a directeur de casting, during a photo session with a famous photographer and when she is trying on clothes with a fashion creator. We also see her at a fashion parade. Then she takes us on a tour through Paris, showing us famous places such as the Louvre, the Eiffel Tower, the Musée d'Orsay, etc. She lets us visit her apartment in the 17th arrondissement and shows us the beautiful view she has of the Sacré-Cœur. Eventually, we accompany her to her native home in Strasbourg, Alsace. She introduces us to her family and shows us a little of the city.
04. Fanny Alvarez Duration: 10 Minutes	In this program we meet Fanny. Fanny is a young lycéenne from Toulouse in the south of France. Her great interest is the circus and we first meet her training at the circus school of the city of Toulouse. We then follow her to her home in a little village on the outskirts of Toulouse where we meet her parents, her elder sister and her dog. Back at the circus school we see her practicing acrobatics, monocycling and juggling. Her circus teacher talks about Fanny and a group of young circus students, the Simili Circus, who train to perform a few circus numbers at different places around the city. We also see them perform at a childrens hospital. Fanny then shows us Toulouse and talks a little about this important industrial town before taking us with two of her friends on a window shopping tour in the town centre ending up in a simple pasta restaurant. Before saying au revoir we meet Fanny training aerobics. Together with six other girls she was in fact the French aerobics champion last year.
05. Jaffar Boudad Duration: 10 Minutes	In this episode we meet Jaffar. Jaffar is a young boy who is still at collège. His parents are divorced and when we first meet him, he is at his father's apartment in Boulogne-Billancourt, a big suburb to the southwest of Paris. He spends his weekend with his father. We go on a tour in Boulogne-Billancourt and Jaffar shows us the local market, Roland Garros, the famous tennis stadium, and the Parc des Princes, home arena of the Paris Saint Germain football team. We then follow him to the 20th arrondissement where his mother lives. We visit a bookshop a little out of the ordinary and follow him home to his mother's apartment. The program ends with Jaffar and two of his friends participating in the fabulous Friday Night Fever, a roller skating randonnée that takes place every Friday night and where thousands of roller skaters gather and skate on the streets of downtown Paris.
